Newsletter of the Federal Depository Library Program

Vol. 14, no. 26

GP 3.16/3-2:14/26

December 31, 1993

December 15, 1993

Dear Library Director:

I am pleased to announce the third annual Federal Depository Conference on April 20 - 22, 1994. As your library maintains a Federal Depository, I urge you to send at least one librarian and as many other representatives as you can to this very important seminar. There is no registration fee for either the Federal Depository Conference or the Regional Depository Seminar which follows it on Saturday, April 23.

The 1994 conference is very much a "users conference," with the format, subjects, and speakers determined by representatives of the depository community. As can be seen from the preliminary agenda, it is a full, three day conference with presentations and discussions as varied as the libraries in the Federal Depository Library Program. Your staff's attendance at the conference should result in enhancements to the value of the depository's services to your library as a whole and the community it serves. A registration form and preliminary agendas for both the Regional Seminar and the Conference appear on the following pages.

Thank you very much for your cooperation and for supporting your Federal Depository operation.

Sincerely,

Wayne Kelley

WAYNE P. KELLEY
Superintendent of Documents

Revised Federal Depository Library Manual Published

The new edition of the Federal Depository Library Manual, revised November 1993, has been published and should arrive in depository libraries shortly. It is being distributed to all depository libraries on shipping list 93-0685-P, dated 12/15/93. The Superintendent of Documents classification number is GP 3.29:D 44/993.

Automated versions of the Federal Depository Library Manual (FDLM), Instructions to Depository Libraries, GPO Classification Manual, and Superseded List are available in ASCII format on the Federal Bulletin Board (FBB). Choose the Forum/SIGs area, then GUIDLINE. In addition, two excerpts from the FDLM, "How and When to Contact LPS" and "Suggested Core Collections," plus the "LPS Telephone Number List" are available on the FBB. The bulletin board telephone number is 202-512-1397. For assistance in accessing the Federal Bulletin Board, call the system operator, Tony Ford, on 202-512-1126.

Depository libraries needing additional paper copies of the publications noted above should request them on a Depository Library Inquiry Form. Please send the request to the address specified in each document. LPS encourages selective housing sites, especially, to obtain their own copies of these documents which contain information essential to the proper functioning of the Federal Depository Library Program.

LPS Seeks Help in Updating the Superseded List

In 1993, the Library Programs Service (LPS) issued seven "Updates to the Superseded List" in Administrative Notes. This column assists documents librarians in disposing of superseded materials before the normal 5-year retention period for non-superseded documents. LPS only produces the updates as information received from Federal agencies and depository libraries is verified.

We rely heavily on the depository community for recommendations for the "Update" column and need your help in adding items to the Superseded List in 1994.

Please submit additions, corrections, or other changes to:

Chief, Depository Services
Library Programs Service (SLLD)
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, DC 20401
Fax: 202-512-1432

[This special offer was sent to depository libraries in shipment boxes on December 15, 1993.]
